

Planneri: Automated content creation and lead generation for Real Estate

Similar Ideas:

1. Roomvu: Real estate- specific AI video generation, light CRM and automated posting to social media.
2. kvCORE: End-to-end front office for real estate agencies – portfolio management, listings, viewing of bookings etc.
3. Boomtown: End-to-end software for real estate agencies, from lead generation to software management
4. Radius: All-in-one brokerage platform to help agencies get started and scale up with ERP like features

Differentiation:

1. Property-specific marketing videos – Roomvu provides market stats on areas, not specific investment/purchase opportunities.
2. AI from end-to-end: from video artifacts, to voiceovers, to captions and hashtags, all of it is AI generated based on project and market data.
3. Geographical focus – Dubai real estate is much less mature than US real estate which provides a greater opportunity for process automation.

Stakeholders

Real Estate Developers:

Developers value publicity and reputation. Their primary goal is to have all their new projects sell out at launch, and to deliver to completion without running out of cash. They work with agencies to ensure that there is enough hype around their project announcements.

Brokerage CEOs:

Brokerage CEOs focus on ensuring that the maximum volume of transactions happens through their agency. They also look to build brand to secure partnerships with developers. Likely to be interested in anything that keeps costs low and builds brand.

Real Estate Marketers:

The primary user of this idea. The goal of marketers is to establish a regular cadence of posts on social media and maintain a stream of interesting content. They are usually overloaded with work as marketing teams run lean.

Real Estate Agents:

Value speed and motivated buyers. Put simply, if they don't sell, they don't eat. Rely on a high volume of transactions of different types (leasing, buying) to generate commission. Some rely on prospecting lists, and some want to build their brand to stand out.

Real Estate Regulatory Agency:

Want to ensure compliant behavior in players in the real estate market. Goal is to protect consumers/ home buyers while ensuring that the market remains attractive for investors and on a solid growth trajectory.

Home buyers:

Value transparency and knowledge. Their goal is to buy a good house at a good price, whether for living or investment. Likely to play agents against each other to secure a home, do their own research and work based on referrals more than cold outreach.
